Visuals of Federal Response to Oregon Wildfires Available

SALEM, OR – Federal staff and resources continue to assist Oregon, in person and working virtually, in support of the state’s response to the devastating wildfires.

Photos and video documenting the federally supported, state managed, locally executed response continue to be captured and is available for download. The collection currently has more than 200 files for media use with new imagery added frequently. They are available at the following links:

- Collection of images and video
- Collection of b-roll \(supplemental video footage\)

Each visual file includes the location, a caption, and the photographer’s name for photo credit.

A major disaster declaration was approved on Sept. 15 for the State of Oregon, triggering the release of federal funds for emergency protective measures under the Public Assistance program, Individual Assistance, as well as Hazard Mitigation statewide.

Registration is open for those affected by wildfires in Clackamas, Douglas, Jackson, Klamath, Lane, Lincoln, Linn, and Marion counties. Apply by visiting DisasterAssistance.gov, calling 800-621-3362 or using the FEMA app. Those who use Video Relay Service can call 800-621-3362.
